PRIVATE PARTS

Directions: Have your child identify and circle or color the private parts of their body. The private parts of their body are covered by their bathing suit. Their mouth is also a private part. Help remind your child that the private parts of their bodies belong to them and should not be touched or seen unless they are hurt or are at the doctor's office. In order for your child to be able to articulate abuse or inappropriate touches, you need to refer to their private parts in anatomically correct ways.
